MUDEV Instructor Agreement

Version 2026-10-08-v1 | Issued 8 October 2026

1. Joining MUDEV

This agreement applies to your application to teach on the MUDEV learning hub operated by MUDEV LTD. Read and download it before submitting your application. Approval gives you access to an instructor workspace; it does not automatically publish a course or guarantee sales.

2. Your courses and responsibilities

Provide accurate course titles, descriptions, prices and learning outcomes. Upload original content or content you have permission to use, including videos, images and supporting materials. Keep your account and settlement details accurate. You retain ownership of your content and permit MUDEV to store, display and deliver it to authorised learners for the purpose of operating your courses.

3. Publication and course updates

MUDEV reviews new courses and submitted updates before publication. You may edit your course information, improve lessons and append new lessons after students enrol. The approved version remains available until an update is approved. Keep the course aligned with its advertised subject and learning outcomes. Do not replace a purchased course with an unrelated subject. Existing enrolled lessons cannot be removed or reordered; saved progress and previously issued certificates are preserved.

4. Revenue allocation and processing fees

For each successful paid sale of your course, 80% of the course transaction amount is allocated to you and 20% to MUDEV. MUDEV bears Paystack processing fees from its own share. For example, a NGN 10,000 course sale allocates NGN 8,000 to the instructor and NGN 2,000 to MUDEV before MUDEV's processing fees. Free enrolments and test payments create no payable instructor earnings. This allocation does not guarantee income.

5. Settlement accounts and payment records

Before live sales begin, provide correct bank details to MUDEV for verification and connection to a Paystack settlement subaccount. Paystack processes the split and bank settlement under its applicable requirements and schedule. Website sales figures show verified transaction allocations, not confirmation of bank deposits. Bank settlement status, processing fees and payment issues are confirmed through Paystack. Notify MUDEV promptly if your bank details change.

6. Refunds, disputes and support

Reported payment issues, refunds and disputes are handled through MUDEV and Paystack. A successful sale allocation is not a guarantee that the funds can never be reversed. Any refund or dispute adjustment must be reconciled against the affected transaction. Contact MUDEV for the applicable process before treating website totals as final settled income. Help MUDEV address learner complaints about your course content.

7. Learner information and course continuity

Use learner information only to support delivery of your course. Do not share learner account information or request their passwords or payment credentials. Contact MUDEV before withdrawing a published course or leaving the platform so existing learner access and outstanding payment matters can be addressed. Your instructor workspace allows you to manage only your own courses.

8. Acceptance, versions and contact

By selecting the acceptance checkbox and submitting your teaching application, you confirm that you have read and agree to this version. MUDEV records the agreement version, document fingerprint and acceptance time with your application and account. Retain your downloaded copy. New versions will be identified separately; an existing acceptance record will not be relabelled as acceptance of revised terms. Questions: mudevltd@gmail.com.
